

MBChB Programme

Interested in teaching medical students?Recruitment of Primary Care Placements 2020-21Early Years Placements

The University of Leeds, School of Medicine is currently recruiting GP practices in the Leeds area to provide additional placements for it's early year students in Years 1 and 2 of the MBChB programme.

In Year 1, the aim is early exposure to Primary Care and involves time with a GP and practice staff and is intended to enable students to understand about the delivery of healthcare rather than specific disease management. By Year 2 students are looking to experience dedicated teaching on basic clinical skills in history taking and examination. The other session should be linked into clinical topics and can take the form of "cold cases" consulting with patients or tutorials.

Full support is offered by the team to work with new practices particularly at this challenging time for clinical practice and student education. Practices can express an interest in all or a selection of the rotations below.
